Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. has presented an innovation in antiquities and numismatics for some time now. The system is simple. When you want an antiquity or coin in the sale, just bid the estimated price by phone or mail. We will send you the antiquity or coin immediately. No waiting for the closing of the sale. Any and all antiquities or coins not sold before the closing date will be sent to the highest bidder on April 23, 2002.

EXAMPLE—You bid estimate on an item valued at $100.00 and if your bid is the 1st to reach us, you will receive the item immediately. If on the other hand, you bid $75.00 on the same item and are still the high bidder at the end of the sale, the item will be mailed to you on the closing date, April 23, 2002.

If you are ever in the area, stop in to see us! Of course, it's best to call first. Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. reserves the right to refuse any ridiculous bids.

Rx: Curule chair; PATRE COS above, scepter and diadem below, S C on either side. The reverse legend PATRE COS, meaning "in the consulship of my father," affords an unusually vivid glimpse at the nepotism typical of the late Republic. It also provides a rare precise date for a Republican coin, if only the consul in question can be identified. There are three possibilities, whose year in office ranged from 61 to 31 BC. The consensus, for divergent reasons, is that the father of MESSAL F is Messala Rufus, consul in 53 BC. Fascinating and quite rare (R7 in Sydenham). VF..... 750

198. C. NUMONIUS VAALA; Denarius Caesar Portrait, 41 BC, 3.65g., Cr-514/2, Syd-1087 (R8), Numonia 2. Obv: Head r., of Numonius Vaala with features of Caesar. Rx: Warrior l. attacking a vallum defended by two soldiers, VAALA in exergue. The portrait, though unnamed, is surely that of Caesar. Other denarii of the same year portrayed Octavian and Brutus, also without naming them. The confusion and uncertainty of Roman politics in the years following the murder of Caesar is thus graphically reflected on the coins. This "secret" propaganda war cannot have pleased Octavian, although two of the three types (including the present coin) favored his interests. 40 BC saw a last emission from the legal college of moneyers, this time tightly controlled by Octavian. After that the official issues cease, and the "personal" coinage of Antony and Octavian becomes the coinage of the State. Extremely rare (R8 in Sydenham) and important. VF+ 1500

Rx: No legend, Domitian on horseback l. The rare clockwise obverse legend shows that this is one of the earliest precious metal coins of Domitian as Caesar. Domitian's gold and silver coinage started with a clockwise obverse legend abbreviating his name DOMITIAN, which is very rare; then came our rare variant, obverse legend clockwise with DOMIT; the bulk of the issue, finally, used obverse legend counterclockwise with DOMIT. The BM possesses one aureus with our variant of the obverse legend but no denarius, Paris has neither the aureus nor the denarius, Berk photofile includes one such aureus but again no denarius. 355. JULIA DOMNA, WIFE OF SEPTIMUS SEVERUS AND MOTHER OF CARACALLA; Denarius, Rome, 211 AD, 2.85g., BM-11, C-114 (4 Fr.). Rx: MAT AVGG MAT SEN M PATR Pax standing l. holding branch and scepter. The effusive titles voted to Julia after Septimius' death in 211 AD, "Mother of the Two Emperors, Mother of the Senate, Mother of the Fatherland", are joined with a figure of Pax to express the hope that she could reconcile her quarreling sons! The usual designation of this figure as Julia herself is an error, since she wears the normal coiffure of a goddess not Julia's own characteristic helmet-like hairdo; and the continuation of Julia's titles on the reverse does not mean that the figure depicted there must also be Julia, since on the coin reverses of the emperors not just their own figures but any appropriate deity or personification can of course be connected with legends made up of the imperial titulature. So Cohen's alternate description of the figure on this denarius as Pax, following Joseph Arneth, rather than Julia, is quite correct! Scarce: 15 specimens in Reka Devnia hoard. Rx: Horseman r., double ax above l., monogram below. This scarce coin, which revives the AE types of Philip II, has often in the past been assigned to the ephemeral Philip IV, son of Cassander; see for example SNG Copenhagen. Price allots it without comment to Philip III from the mint of Miletus, presumably because Alexander III struck precious metal coins with this precise combination of monogram and symbol at that mint. Although the present example was probably found in Macedonia, Richard Ashton in "Essays Hersh" reports 14 pieces in the local museum of Fethiye (ancient Telmessos), not terribly far from Miletus. Although the attribution of the type to Philip IV is tantalizing and appealing, as it partially fills a chronological gap which is otherwise difficult to explain, it must be regarded as unproven. - Nerva's sestertii of 97 AD are extraordinary for recording three popular reforms of abuses of Domitian: Milder administration of the Jewish Temple Tax (FISCI IVDACI CALUMNIA SUBLATA), remission to Italy of the expenses of the Imperial Post (VEHICVLATIONE ITALIAE REMISSA) and, as on our coin, "The fixing of supplies of grain for the Plebs of Rome." Since free distribution of grain had begun in the late Republic and under Augustus and certainly cannot have been interrupted by Domitian, we do not know exactly what measures concerning Rome's grain supply Nerva was commemorating on this sestertius.
